SPEAKER: Pro. R Maheswari, Principal KMCT College of Nursing

KMCT College of nursing conducted an online webinar on Anti-sexual harassments as a part of gender sensitization programme. During the programme Pro. R Maheswari, Principal KMCT College of Nursing said regarding the importance of prevention of sexual harassments towards all gender. She said that Sexual violence is a widespread problem. It happens in every community and affects people of all genders and ages. Nearly one in five women and one in 71 men are victims of rape. Sexual violence is defined as any sexual activity where consent is not freely given. Even for those of us who don't directly experience it, we are all impacted by sexual violence because of how it affects communities and society especially survivors and their loved ones. The programme lasted for one hour. Additionally, it's important to listen and communicate without judgment. If they seek medical attention or make plans to report the assault, offer to be there for them and provide a supportive presence. Encourage the victim to get support from resources such as hotlines and sexual violence awareness/prevention organizations.

ACTIVITY REPORT

DATE: 29/04/2020 at 11 am to 12pm

VENUE: Webinar

SPEAKER: Prof. Jasna, Vice principal KMCT College of Nursing

KMCT College of Nursing conducted an online personality development programme enlightening the topic "Equal participation of boys and girls in decision making". Prof. Jasna, Vice principal KMCT College of Nursing said that Achieving gender balance in decision-making requires more than just increased representation. Ensuring that an appropriate number of women are on committees should be accompanied by measures to examine decision-making processes to ensure decisions consider gender issues and women are empowered to take an equal role. Equal participation of men and women in political affairs makes governments more representative of the composition of society; it makes them more accountable and transparent, and ensures that the interests of women are taken into account in policy-making. Women, however, have traditionally been excluded from power and decision-making processes. The programme lasted for one hour.

INDIVIDUALS

ACTIVITY REPORT

DATE:31/07/2019 at 2pm to 3pm

VENUE: KMCT College of Nursing Auditorium

Prof. JASNA, Vice principal KMCT College of Nursing

KMCT College of Nursing conducted a Talk on Eradiating Stigma against Transgender individuals. Prof. Jasna initiated the programme with her incredible speech enlightening Stigma prevention and coping interventions hold promise for reducing stigma and its adverse health-related effects in transgender populations. Changing attitudes have allowed transgender people to become more visible in society. However, the increased visibility of transgender people also highlights the high prevalence of adverse health outcomes that exist in some transgender communities. The programme lasted for one hour.

KMCT has a conducive environment for gender equity, amply reflected in composition of students

(Male/Female(M/F) ratio-1:4.9), teachers (M/F-1:9) and other staff (M/F-1:4).

- There is no gender discrimination in curricular and co-curricular activities.
- Equal opportunities are given to both genders; ability and performance are the only criteria for selection to governance committees

Gender sensitization through:

1. Curricular activities:

- Admissions: There is no gender discrimination shown in selecting students to any of the Programs.
- Academic: Topics on gender-related issues and sexuality included in Curricula.
- UG curriculum: Modules for integrating gender in nursing education prepared by INC have been adopted in nursing subjects.

2. Co-curricular activities:

Gender equity promotion activities

- There are promotional activities organized by various batches.
- Conducted interactive sessions as a part of International Yoga Day Programme are organized for students, teaching and non teaching staff.

Standard Operating Procedures (SOP)

ECO CLUB

Eco Clubs play an important role in creating environmental awareness amongst the future generation. In our college we have an eco-club which plays an important role in creating environmental awareness amongst the future generation and performs activities to save the environment, like planting trees, organizing poster competitions on various environmental issues.

Eco club is a voluntary group which promotes the participation of students in learning about, and improving their environmental means by which students and youth can organize themselves to learn more on this issue, and also take action to improve their immediate environment.

Objectives of Eco Club:-

- To educate the students about their environment.
- To create a clean and green consciousness among students through various innovative methods.
- To mobilize students towards scientific enquiry into environmental problem.
- To involve them in efforts to preserve environment.
- To motivate students how to imbibe habits and life style for minimum waste generation.

Procedure:

Organization Formation & Operation-

1. Announcements - Faculty coordinator should submit proposal to the Principal and IQAC for Approval of club for the academic year.
2. Nominations: The nominations are taken from fellow classmates and seniors in mid december

This is the best time to encourage students to sign up for your club. Club may sign up members at any time while the year active.

Chair person: The club moderator shall be involved in the scheduling (times, locations, etc.) of club meetings. Club members are to submit the tentative plan of event, date, and budget to the secretary. Secretary then presents the proposal to the Principal and IQAC. Coordinators must also be present at all official club meetings, events, activities, etc

Meetings: Club volunteers are required to meet at least one (1) time per 3 months and are to be as the requirements of conducting the activities/events.

Signature

Volunteer member/President:

- a. Shall create a form for Members to indicate interest in those committee(s) they would like to serve on.
- b. Shall select volunteers for events/activities and make the names available to Committee chairs.
- c. Shall maintain the Club's inventories
- d. Shall be responsible for taking of attendance during the activities.

The activities include:

1. Motivate the students to keep the surroundings green and clean by undertaking plantation of trees.
2. Promote ethos of conservation of water by minimizing the use of water.
3. Motivate students to imbibe habits and lifestyle for minimum waste generation, source separation of waste and disposing the waste to the nearest storage point.
4. Educate students to create awareness amongst public and sanitary workers, so as to stop the indiscriminate burning of waste which causes respiratory diseases.
5. Sensitize the students to minimize the use of plastic bags, not to throw them in public places as they choke drains and sewers, cause water logging and provide breeding ground for mosquitoes.
6. Organize tree plantation programmes, awareness programme regarding various environmental issues and educate children about re-use of waste material & preparation of products out of waste.

Eco club can thus help to extend boundaries and scope of the formal educational system encouraging creativity, and improving students for constructive action.

REPORT OF ACTIVITIES

TREE PLANTATION AND PLASTIC AWARENESS CAMPAIGN

DATE:05/03/19

ECO Club at KMCT College of Nursing was actively engaged in a series of impactful environmental initiatives and activities. Here is a summary of our key activities throughout the year:

Tree Plantation Drive: To enhance the green cover of our campus and promote biodiversity, we organized multiple tree plantation drives. Hundreds of tree saplings were planted by our dedicated members, students, and staff members.

Plastic Awareness Campaign: Recognizing the pressing issue of plastic pollution, we conducted a comprehensive awareness campaign throughout the year. This campaign included informational sessions on the harmful effects of plastic on the environment and strategies for reducing plastic usage.

Waste Management Initiatives: We actively participated in waste management efforts on our campus. We organized waste segregation drives and recycling programs to minimize our environmental footprint.

REPORT OF ACTIVITIES

CLEAN-UP DRIVES AND CELEBRATION OF ENVIRONMENTAL DAYS

DATE:05/06/19

Clean-up Drives: Several campus clean-up drives were organized to maintain a clean and litter-free environment.

Celebration of Environmental Days: We actively celebrated World Environment Day, Earth Day, and other significant environmental observances. These celebrations included various events, exhibitions, and interactive activities.

Community Outreach: The ECO Club extended its efforts beyond the campus by engaging with local communities and schools. We conducted environmental awareness programs and activities to promote environmental consciousness in the broader community.

These activities throughout 2018-2019 reflect our ongoing commitment to environmental conservation and sustainability. The ECO Club at KMCT College of Nursing remains dedicated to promoting eco-consciousness and actively contributing to a cleaner, greener, and more sustainable environment.

Placement : First Year PBBSc Nursing

Title : BIOETHICS

Course Code : KMCT ADD 006

COURSE DESCRIPTION :

Bioethics involves big picture moral dilemmas faced by the medical community. Nursing ethics deal with individual ethical dilemmas that arise from situations between a care provider and patient. The field bioethics field wrestles with questions such as: What is the right thing to do?

The course involves an ethical discussion about common medical dilemmas in various circumstances. After this course, students should have a breadth of knowledge concerning medical ethics in general and an even more profound understanding of some significant historical and contemporary debates, including freedom of conscience, surrogate decision-making, and mandating vaccinations. In addition, students are expected to demonstrate their ability to engage in professional discussion

The course is scheduled over 1 day and will be organized as part of training programme of 1st Year PBBSc Nursing Students.

AIMS AND OBJECTIVES

AIMS

The aim of this programme is to guide student nurses to identify ethical situations and to identify the ethical situations and act accordingly in their professional, social and personal life.

OBJECTIVES

This programme is intended to :

1. Students should develop an in-depth understanding of several critical issues in contemporary medical ethics.
2. Students should critically engage with the readings to identify potential problem.
3. Students should begin to develop autonomous ideas about medical ethics to the point that they can defend their own opinions, ideally, opinions that are different from those already expressed in the literature.
4. Throughout the course, students should practice and improve upon, their ability to have philosophical discussions (online) with their classmates. Skills involved in this endeavor include the ability to critique the views of others politely, and the ability to point out ways in which the ideas of others could be improved.

2. "Jeevamrutham, A Lifesaving Initiative" -Voluntary and Safe Blood Donation Practices

Best practice -I

1. 'Palliative care' in association with Grace Pain and Palliative care, Makkom

Palliative care refers to specialized medical care focused on providing relief for terminally ill patients. The goal of palliative care is to improve the quality of life for both the patient and their family by addressing physical, emotional, and spiritual needs. It is provided by a team of healthcare professionals, including nurses who work together to provide comprehensive support tailored to the individual's needs and preferences.

Grace Institute of Palliative Medicine is the centre for Community Participation in Palliative Care and Long Term Care which World Health Organization is collaborating with and helps in spreading the "Kerala model" of Palliative care worldwide. KMCT College of Nursing has been working in collaboration with Grace Institute of Palliative Medicine, Makkam in the field of palliative care. Our students and staff members are being trained in our institute for palliative care. We also consider this as a great exposure for our students to work in society to cultivate a mentality to help people who are terminally ill.

Objectives

- To improve the quality of life of the patients and that of their families who are facing challenges associated with the illness.
- To reduce the unnecessary hospital admissions of the patients by doing regular home visits.
- To understand palliative care principles including symptom management, holistic assessment, and the importance of interdisciplinary teamwork.
- To develop clinical skills relevant to palliative care, such as pain and symptom assessment and management, communication techniques for discussing prognosis and goals of care, and providing psychosocial support to patients and families.
- To enhance empathy and communication skills necessary for building rapport with patients and families, discussing sensitive topics, and providing emotional support throughout the illness.

The context :

Palliative care aims to improve the quality of life of a patient with life threatening disease. It emphasizes the relief of symptoms, pain management, and addressing the physical, psychosocial, and spiritual needs of patients and their families. Palliative care is provided by a multidisciplinary team of healthcare professionals, including doctors, nurses, social workers, chaplains, and other specialists, who collaborate to offer comprehensive support tailored to the individual's preferences and goals. The goal of palliative care is to alleviate suffering, enhance comfort, promote dignity, and empower patients to live as fully and comfortably as possible, while also providing support for their loved ones throughout the illness journey. The students visit palliative centers on a regular rotation basis for the entire year. The students will assess the patient's health concerns and provide care such as bathing, dressing, nail care, combing, wound care, and dressing and provide health education to needy people.

Evidence of success :

- The students get trained in Palliative care and they learn how to deal with terminally ill patients appropriately.
- Success in palliative care is often evidenced by effective management of physical symptoms such as pain, nausea, and shortness of breath, leading to enhanced comfort and quality of life for patients.
- Positive feedback from patients and their families regarding their experience with palliative care services, including communication, emotional support, and coordination of care, indicates success in meeting their needs and preferences.

Problems encountered and Resources required

- Communication challenges: Effective communication between healthcare providers, patients, and families is essential in palliative care but can be challenging due to the complexity of discussing prognosis, treatment options, and end-of-life preferences. Language barriers, cultural differences, and emotional distress can further complicate communication.
- Implementing electronic health records, care coordination platforms, and standardized protocols for palliative care can facilitate communication among healthcare providers and improve continuity of care for patients.

"Jeevamrutham, a life saving initiative" -Voluntary and Safe Blood Donation Practices

Introduction

In a world where health emergencies can strike unexpectedly, access to blood becomes a crucial determinant of survival. Recognizing this pressing need the students of KMCT Nursing College in collaboration with KMCT Medical College Hospital introduced a project "Jeevamrutham, A Lifesaving Initiative." Project Jeevamrutham is a noble endeavor aimed at facilitating blood donation to needy patients admitted at KMCT Medical College. We understand the significance of timely blood transfusions in saving lives, especially during medical emergencies, surgeries, and treatments for various health conditions.

Objectives of practice

- To promote blood donation awareness about the critical need for regular blood donations and dispel any myths or misconceptions associated with the process.
- To build a Donor Network through various outreach activities, campaigns, and events.
- To facilitate blood donation drives within the college premises to collect blood units for the patients in need at KMCT Medical College.

The Context:

Blood Donation Forum: The College has a very active Blood Donation forum functioning under the leadership of College Union. The functioning of the forum is in such a way that the forum identifies the blood group of students. After getting permission from students and their parents, a directory is maintained in the college that keeps a record of blood groups and the contact details of the donors. Genuine patients could approach the forum and students with the compatible blood groups are deputed with the permission from their parents for donating blood. A register on the names of the deputed students is kept by the forum.

Evidence of success

- Increased awareness among the community regarding the importance of regular blood donation and its impact on saving lives.
- Expanded donor network which ensures a steady and reliable supply of blood units to meet the demands of patients admitted at KMCT Medical College.
- Lifesaving impact on patients in need of blood transfusions by providing a reliable source of blood supply and support to KMCT Medical College.

- Students and staff donate more than 120 units of blood every year.

Problem Encountered and Resources:

We came across a lot of myths and misconceptions regarding blood donation prevalent among students. Most of them were fear and pain during donation and infections acquired from the use of non-sterile instruments during donation. Social prejudices that prevail on the sharing of blood. So many people believe that blood should not be shared. This social belief needs to be broken. The continuous awareness campaign creates a positive environment to spread the value of blood donation.
